POETRY.

WAR PICTURES.

We have before us a poem with the above title, by Gabriel Campbell, A. B., Captain in the 17th Michigan Infantry. This poem was delivered on Class Day, before the class of 1865. It possesses intrinsic merit. It embraces a history of the regiment in poetry. The first call to the war—the first parade—the departure—at Washington—the March—camping—South Mountain—the battle field—Antietam—the welcome home—the present—the future. His account of the 17th at the battle of South Mountain is splendid:

But what a fearful spectacle, Appals the soldier's eye—They enfilade our rising flank With masked artillery.
They charge our battery, seize our guns,
And wheel them half around,
And pour a withering volley forth, That mows scores to the ground.

Up gallops gallant Willcox, Who led our foremost van,
And shouts as he approaches us:
"Is this my Michigan?"
The word—'tis done.
See every man looks pale.
A few lie silent at our feet,
Who ne'er will tell the tale.

The Seventeenth Michigan stands firm—Unflinching mid the roar;
Her ensign waves the stars and stripes, N'er lover so much before.
"Forward!" We march. Upward still—We're almost at the light;
When Oh! a double-shotted fire Annihilates our sight.

Down drop we to the earth, and cling And kiss the mother sod:
And every heart with one accord Resigns its fate to God.

Oh what a shroud to worship at!
Amid the shrine and shell And smoke that seemed to bear aloft The souls of those that fell;
And as it bore each patriot up, Clothed in unstained renown, We almost saw the angel stand And greet him with a crown.

At length the voice of Withington Makes every heart enlarge.
Up springing at the welcome word, We rally for the "Charge!"
Sudden from right to left arose A wild, unearthly yell, As on the foremost rebel line Like maddened wolves we fell.

Back driven from their firm stockades, They rush with hideous groan;
And rally, with redoubled strength, Behind a wall of stone.
On comes the line of Michigan, With bristling bayonet all—Three volleys and a charge! Great God!
It clearly scales the wall.

They rally yet—and yet again—Fiendish mad reeking blood!
Nor rebel steel nor walls of stone Can check the loyal flood;
But just as that mountain top, Reflects the setting sun,
Our victor shouts send heavenward Proclaim the Battle won.

Back, o'er the heaps of mangled men, We move as shuts the day,
And there recline upon our arms,
To watch the night away;
And as to heaven's calm, peaceful vault We turn the weary eye,
We feel that we have struck one blow For God and LIBERTY.

This description of the battle-field is effective. The look of hair, and the letter of which this is a paraphrase, are still in the Captain's possession:

Here lies a Georgian youth. How fair His marble lips—his raven hair!
Ha! take this letter from his breast; How charmingly it is addressed!
A woman's hand! We read, "My own Beloved Charles: Sadly alone I weary waiting for you. Do Demand a furlough. Now for you The peas are just in bloom. You know You like them so
When they are green—
I ween
You'll come just then. Here I enclose A braid of Jeanie's hair. She grows So fast. To-morrow she'll be two—And when she smiles she looks like you So much; and yet you scarce would know 'Twas she. God speed you Charles, and oh Remember aye your Mary." War!
Thy ruin is unmeasured! 'Tis well The call to march relieves. To dwell Were agony.

His "Welcome Home" to the "Boys" is good:

Thank God! Thank Heaven! The war is done.
Thank God! Thank Heaven! that we have won.
Woe, to those who Already pent with loving joys, We welcome back our Soldier Boys.

Let Grant's high name and Sherman's fame Attract the nation's grateful voice;
To us belong the nobler song Of our matchless valiant Soldier Boys.
Our noble, gallant Soldier Boys—

Our brave and fearless Soldier Boys—Who bore the heat,
Who walked the "beat"— Our vauntless, dauntless Soldier Boys.

This jubilation over Peace is worthy a patriot:

Awake ten thousand cannon To celebrate this day, When Peace unfolds her cherub wings And speeds us on our way.
For "BABYLON IS FALLEN;"— Doomed harbinger of ill;
And, from the wine-press of her wrath, Her sons have drunk their fill.

Her Slavery and Treason, No chivalry could save.
They, with their cursed Assassins, Receive one common grave.
Her great, inglorious woman-clad For speedy death remaineth, To prove to nations of the earth,
The LORD ALMIGHTY reigneth.

OPINIONS OF CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE ON NEGRO SUFFRAGE.

It is my belief that no reorganization of the country will be complete and permanent until every man in it, of what ever color, is allowed to vote.
The right of suffrage is a right of freedom and citizenship, and it must be granted to all, and to all who have been made free by the course and events of the war. It is objected that the negroes are not qualified to vote. But my observation, recently, assures me that they are sufficiently intelligent. There are among them on the plantations carpenters, mechanics, blacksmiths, preachers, who are very skillful and intelligent.

At least there is at the South, among the colored men, a real aristocracy, an aristocracy of nature. There are those who are intelligent enough to construct a ticket, and the others have intelligence enough to vote when it is put into their hands. They can take the ticket you give them, and they are unable to tell the reason why they vote it, yet they have sense enough to walk up to the ballot box and put it in.
And I think that is about as much intelligence as those before me have. I think if I should ask the reasons of you why you voted as you did, you would not give them. I think you, Mr. President, and Mr. ex-President, and you gentlemen of trustees, and these distinguished gentlemen here, could not tell why they voted as they did at the late election. You found a ticket ready made, and you knew enough to go to the ballot box and deposit it. You had no hand in making it, and the colored men of the South can do as well as you have done.

And they are moral enough to be allowed the suffrage. They are a very religious people and most of them belong to the church, or if as a friend suggested, that only members of a church should be allowed to vote, that restriction should be made, they would all be members of the church by next week, and if it were not a very moralizing process it would be a very speedy and effective political one. But they are moral enough to be allowed this right.
They have a great many black preachers among them, who are now preaching the sanctity of marriage, and if they have but little knowledge of the distinction between men and women, never having been taught it by their late masters, yet these preachers are now instructing them in the rights of property.
—Therefore, giving them the ballot will be eminently safe and eminently right.

Now I wish to say a few words about the mode of re-organizing the South. I do not agree with the doctrine my learned friend advanced yesterday, that the States of the South have become territories, or that they are out or have been out of the Union.
But I think that I may show that the result he aims to secure may be reached by a different theory and process from that. It is my opinion that the States remain States. But the war, a great and stupendous fact, has effected changes, changes as real and permanent as those effected by any other method. It has effected a complete destruction of slavery. No one doubts that. Slavery is dead. And it has accomplished other changes. The white population of the South are become free. Those who were slaves at the beginning of the war have become freedmen and citizens now, and the rebel governments of the Southern States have been destroyed.

All the machinery of those governments has come to an end, and now holding, as I do, that the States remain States, the second process in the work of re-organization is that the governments now invert into the hands of the Southern people? That is now the question. I hold that the war has made every colored man a part of the people. Therefore the colored man of the South should bear an equal hand in re-organization. The war has made them citizens, and the right of suffrage in re-organization of a state pertained to every citizen, whatever may have been his status before the war began.

And this right will have to be admitted, if not new, yet at some time. Our classical knowledge will give us an illustration: when the sybillic book was offered to the Roman emperor and refused, a leaf was taken out, and this was repeated upon each refusal until but a single leaf was left, and the same price was demanded for that. And it was paid. So we shall have to pay this price. We shall pay it at last. It is right, too, that we should. The right of suffrage is one of the universal right of man; our country must recognize this before the sacrifices of the brave men who have fought and died for it will be truly recognized. We must take this right up to the throne of God, and lay it upon His sacred altar, for it is a matter of eternal justice. We may then build a memorial hall for the noble sons of Dartmouth, and fill it with the trophies of war and trophies of peace. But our true monument will be a country that grants the universal rights of man to every man.

THE REVIVAL OF SLAVERY.

We call especial attention to the following significant and striking article from the Nashville [Tenn.] Press:

"The proofs that there is a widely spread, deeply seated, and well-matured determination in the minds of the old slave oligarchy and the galvanized rebels of this State to re-establish the institution of negro slavery, so soon as the Federal troops shall have relapsed into the hands of the old State rights faction, crowd thickly upon us almost every day.

"I mean to vote for Gov. Campbell," said a wealthy and influential citizen in an adjoining county the other day, because he is for slavery, and we will easily get our slaves when these Federal Soldiers leave the State. "You ought to vote for Gov. Campbell," said a prominent slaveholder in another county to his friend, "because he is against the abolitionists, and will help us to get back our niggers as soon as the army goes away." This is not the talk of trifling, thoughtless men—it is the expression of substantial citizens, men of influence and wealth, devoted not to politics, but to the right of property in negroes, who believe with Gov.
Campbell and Emerson Etheridge, that all the acts of both the Federal and State Governments freeing the slaves were illegal, null and void, and of no binding effect, unless the people themselves consent to submit to stern necessity. A Tennesseean of high character, who never held or asked for office in his life, informed us the other day, that several prominent citizens of this county told him that slavery in modified form would soon be reinstated.
The Union men who think that the slaveholders have retired from the contest, finally are sadly mistaken. They are discreetly silent now, and wait for the withdrawal of the national troops from Tennessee when the local affairs of every magistrate's district will be controlled by such men as Morgan Andrews, of Columbia. We call on the friends of freedom to awake and crush out this infernal plot of the slave oligarchy while it is weak. Trust no man, vote for no man who is not a straight-open, open advocate of universal absolute freedom and of equal rights. The pretended anti-radical movement in Tennessee is not led by fools. Its leaders have a purpose in view, which they do not dare to proclaim openly on the stump, for fear of being lodged in

The Ypsilanti Commercial.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY, BY C. R. PATTISON.

A LETTER FROM REV. MR. VAN PAMMEL AND A REPLY.

YPSILANTI, Aug. 31, 1865.
C. R. PATTISON—Sir:
A friend has lately handed me the "Commercial" of the 11th inst., which contains a remarkable article headed, "Colored Suffrage a Religious Safeguard," by Wm. H. Hooper. May I kindly ask you whether you endorse said article or the statements therein made? Certain persons seem inclined to think that the very fact of your inserting it amounts to an endorsement. I will be thankful if you favor me with an answer.

Respectfully yours,
E. VAN PAMMEL.

REPLY NO. 2.

Rev. Mr. VanPammel—DEAR SIR:—The writer of the article you allude to takes the ground that the increase of Catholics in this country, as demonstrated in the "Catholic World" is a "danger the magnitude of which cannot be over-estimated." Were we convicted that in a Democratic form of Government, under Republican Institutions the Catholic body could maintain its unity, religiously and politically, owing and acknowledging "political and religious headship in a foreign potentate," we should feel greatly alarmed. Not more so however, than in the case of a protestant body under like circumstances. Setting aside the confessional should the Baptist denomination or any protestant body owe sole allegiance politically and religiously to a foreign potentate; were there a political clanship, so that the entire body, rarely an exception, allied itself with one party, and that party arrayed against humanity, the nobility and elevation of manhood, pledged to the oppression and degradation of four millions of human beings, because of the color of their skin,—a party that held on to the slaveholding aristocracy, until this aristocracy cast it off and then extended its sympathy, got down on its marrow bones, and besought at least, the privilege of touching the hem of its garments, and when these slavemonger rebels are conquered receives them unrepentant with open arms and joins them in hunting down, cutting and carving, killing and exterminating this colored race, depriving them, if possible, of every attribute of humanity, education and religious instruction, to testify in courts—legal marriage, franchise—we say that were the Baptist denomination or any other protestant body to occupy such a position with our present light, we should be afraid of it, and fear its growth as an imminent danger to the republic. Such an attempt on the part of any protestant body through the dictation or even the assent of its priesthood to uphold such a huge load of sins and moral corruption would produce such an excitement in this country as has not yet been witnessed. It would meet a whirlwind of opposition. Sir, the majority of the American people are jealous of their liberties, and this jealousy makes them keenly alive to its infringement in the case of any son and daughter of Adam.

The writer contrasts the colored race with the status of Irish Catholics in this country. He takes the ground that in point of intelligence there is not much to choose. "The black is uncultivated and ignorant, but so is the Irish."—Never having been South we know not the relative degree of intelligence there. It is the universal testimony of those who ought to know that the poor whites of the South are below the level of the former slaves,—more ignorant, more helpless. Here is the report of the Senator at Chattanooga of those receiving rations from the government:

White people,	904
'Blacks,'	43
'Superiority' of whites,	861
As 'figures won't lie,' here is "Confirmation strong as proofs of holy writ."

As to population the numbers are not very far from equal, but here are twenty-three whites to one black dependent on government to keep soul and body together. We don't aver that these poor whites are Irishmen.—Slavery has the same effect in degrading and humbling every class and race of men. As we cannot follow the writer South let us come nearer home.—Take our own city. We judge that in population, there is not a material difference. From thorough inquiry and observation, we venture the assertion that the black population of this city have taken and purchased the last year and do now take and purchase more newspapers than the Irish Catholics; we go further and put it at double the number. Other more knowing parties place it at thrice the number. To demonstrate the thing we make this liberal offer, you may choose your man and we will choose ours, and the two may choose a third, and they shall thoroughly canvass the matter, and if the facts don't show that the blacks of this city take and purchase more papers than the Irish Catholics we will give $25.00 into the Treasury of the Ladies' Benevolent Association for the poor of this city. If the facts show to the contrary you shall contribute the $25.00 to this worthy object. To make this proposition a fair one, the canvassers shall be limited between the 1st of January and the 1st of September, 1865. If the proposition be accepted these canvassers can easily demonstrate, that so far as a lack of prejudice is concerned, in taking and reading political papers that do not jibe with their peculiar notions, the blacks are entirely ahead. We aver that as a body in diversified general information regarding politics of all parties the blacks are ahead. So suspicious are Irish Catholics of being poisoned by the perusal of papers that oppose their politics, that it is next to an impossibility to get them to subscribe for a Republican paper. To test the matter, we make you another proposition, that for every Irish Catholic who will subscribe and pay for our paper a year, we will place one dollar in your hands toward defraying the expenses of bringing up and educating the orphans of the Catholic Church. With regard to the number of children who receive an education there can be no tests made, for the colored children of our city are wickedly excluded from our Union School, and this is done through the balance of power exercised by Irish Catholics. All the advantages are on the side of the Irishmen.

Now the writer of the article takes the position that to save this country, we must not disfranchise the Irishman, which thing the native American or Know Nothing party proposed to do, which party we opposed tooth and nail, but we must give the blacks who are mainly Protestant and whose instincts are on the side of freedom,—the elective franchise. He says, "it is desirable to meet the positive Catholic element in politics or religion by one equally positive in another direction." The Irishmen have chosen to cast their lot as allies of the slave power and the oppressors of a wronged race. They largely hold the balance of power and the question arises, why not arm this wronged race with the ballot, and thus give them protection against the wickedness of the slave power?

We can see no reason why not. If the Irish were the oppressed, wronged body, and the blacks the balance power, voting against them, allied with a party seeking political alliance with their oppressors, we should deem ourselves wickedly culpable, if we did not protest and favor the placing of the ballot in the hands of every intelligent Irishman. This is all we ask for the colored man, conferring upon every intelligent black man the means of protecting himself and race. Children of the same common father, inheriting the right equally to breathe God's pure air, they are entitled to the same equality of privileges.

If it should ever chance that the colored voters become the tool of priest or layman, and form a clanship as obnoxious to liberty and human equality as in the case of Irish Catholics, then let honest and conscientious men unite to vote them down.

We oppose the exclusion of any class or race of intelligent men from political power. Degrade and disfranchise one class of men and you degrade all. There is room in this country for all, the Protestant and the Catholic, the Republican and the Democrat, for men of every race and color.

Allow us in closing to ask you to explain the strange political phenomena presented by Irish Catholics in this country. They pretend to flee from the oppression of the old world to the freedom of the new, yet almost their first act in their new-found liberty, is to declare themselves in favor of a species of human bondage, the meanest and most infamous recorded in history. Fleeing from degradation and political disfranchisement, they make haste upon their arrival here to aid in the degradation and disfranchisement of a race of fellow-men equal to themselves in the God-given attributes of manhood, and in the instinctive love of freedom for all mankind far ahead. It would seem that like the cruel boy who catches flies and tortures them for the fun of it the showing off of a race on to a lower plane than themselves so as to have somebody to look down upon and scorn, hate and 'damn,' and persecute, affords them peculiar relief.

Why should Irishmen compromise their manhood in an ignoble, political servility to a class of politicians, who, though just before an election they ply them with whiskey, smile on them and meet them as "hale fellows well met," flatter their Irish pride and almost become good Catholics, but when the election is over, and they have no further use for them, cast them off as they would a soiled garment until another election. Their equals for a few days before election, and then in their palatial dwellings look down upon them with contempt. They give an Irish Catholic office? Not they, no more than they would a nigger. All they want of an Irishman or care for him is his vote, and they know they can have that dog cheap. No wonder that the whole-souled, heroic Maugher cries out "it is full time that Irishmen emancipate themselves from the control of the politicians who have so many years held them in ignoble captivity."

We believe that the negro would assert more manhood and independence of character than to become the tool or do the bidding of any class of politicians.

In the spirit of your own letter, we kindly ask you to explain the most unnatural, and inconsistent position of your countrymen.—We cordially invite you to make use of our columns. We will courteously extend to you every facility in our power. Though occupying the above anomalous position we entertain nothing but the most kindly feelings towards our Catholic Irish countrymen; we wish them well. As pastor over your people so far as you inculcate the great lessons of Christianity, the principles of a broad humanity and labor to make them better men and women, we wish you abundant success.

CURRENT EVENTS.
The Wirz trial drags its slow length along. It develops such disgusting and cruel details that we refrain from reading any more than absolutely necessary to give our readers the facts. We know that no sorrow-stricken mother would wish to read the details of the dreadful cruelties heaped by worse than traitor's hands upon her poor defenseless soldier boy.—Governor Sharkey of Mississippi issued an order arming the militia of that State. Gen. Slocum the candidate of the Democracy of New York for Secretary of State counteracted it. The President has overruled Slocum and strangely, and we believe unwisely, permits the arming of 15,000 ex-rebels.—Leading republicans recently met in Washington to decide upon the policy in the new congress.—The Democracy in New York have nominated four Republicans. The New York Times says they have made a handsome surrender. It is probable that the Republicans will nominate a least four on the ticket. Among the number will be Gen. Slocum and Lucius Robinson.—Civil courts have been established in South Carolina for the trial of cases except those of colored persons. Of course colored men have no rights which a white man is bound to respect.—The colored men of North Carolina are to hold a convention at Beaufort on the 29th inst. They have extended invitation to Chief Justice Chase, Horace Greeley, Gen. Butler, and others to address them.—Senator Harlan has written a letter defining the President's position in reference to the negro suffrage. He says the President is not opposed to negro suffrage. His position is that each State must settle the matter, but it belongs to Congress to see that the rebel States adopt republican institutions; a clause in the constitution requires this and Congress is sole judge of its own members and can keep congressmen from these States out if they do not.—The English government is coming to be very suspicious of the Fenians and have opened up a correspondence with our government upon the subject. It is feared by many that the arrangement of the Government to withdraw the troops and restore the civil courts is premature and will result disastrously.—The M. E. Conference for this "Conference" began at Albion yesterday.—The Union ticket in Charleston S.C. and throughout the State is defeated. Wade Hampton, the meaneast of the rebel chieftains is elected a delegate to the State convention.—The southernners are largely petitioning for the pardon of Jeff Davis.—Maine last year out of 112,000 votes gave 10,000 Republican majority. This year out of 75,000 votes about 15,000 majority—well done.—The State Fair opens at Adrian next Tuesday. The fare from Ypsilanti is $2.80.

A DITTY TRICK.

The Sentinel secured through a contemptible sneak a private letter, and such is its low state of morals, induced, we suppose, by preaching copperhead doctrines so long, that it thought it no dishonor to publish it. A certain law office, not a thousand miles from the Post Office, (we mean the copperhead tail of the firm), became cognizant of the affair prior to publication and was mightily pleased, and thought it would not do to let so good a chance to stab said "loyal citizen" pass unapproved.

The "loyal citizen" to whom the letter was addressed considered it beneath his dignity to notice the publication, from the fact that such underhanded attempts to injure a person or his business, always re-acts upon those who engage in it. And he would not now, but for the busy attempts to show dishonesty on his part. The letter would imply that all the coupons were cut off.
The fact is, that the coupons for the first six months interest were cut off from two $100 December bonds, under the impression that they were August bonds, or interest due Aug. 15th.

The business was done in a great hurry, under a pressure of cares, and the mistake was not noticed until a day or two afterwards, when the coupons were presented at the bank. The parties to whom the bonds were sent were notified of the mistake, and the explanation was satisfactory. The supposition on the face is that the loyal citizen would not trade with a copperhead.
So he wrote that a man too copper-perish to take U. S. bonds at par when at par, could not expect to receive his trade. The author of the letter who complained that U. S. Bonds were sent instead of greenbacks, zealously denied the impeachment of being tainted with copperheadism as the loyal citizen apprehends any sensible business man would make haste to do. This same snapper to the firm above-mentioned, says to the "loyal citizen," a few days since, "ha! ha! you won't trade with a Democrat, then." Thus acknowledging what everybody believes that he, at least, considers himself a copperhead.
But the loyal citizen don't believe that every democrat is a copperhead. He always has and will continue to trade with and do business with democrats.
But with a man so shamefaced as to boast that he is a copperhead he never will. He apprehends that no reliable business man, in possession of his senses will venture to make the boast.

ANN ARBOR SCHOOL MEETING.

This was a creditable affair beside of ours. We learn from the Argus that the polls were opened at 9 A. M., and kept open until 2 P. M., at which hour they were closed and the votes counted.
The result showed that Henry D. Bennett had 273 Ebenzer Wells " 205
Collins B. Cook " 279
A. W. Chase " 90
A. W. Merham " 4 And Messrs. Bennett, Wells and Cook having received a majority of the votes polled, were declared elected Trustees for the term of three years.
The votes for Mr. Chase were given because of a little unnecessary jealousy of the Third Warders about the location of their School House, and not because of any dissatisfaction in any other particular.

Party as we see in the result had no show. But good common sense in electing the best men irrespective of party. Let the same contemptible party spirit and method of proceeding as witnessed at our last meeting, and in fact, in everything that concerns the polity of our city, and its welfare be persevered in, and men of probity, and capital will avoid it as they would the cholera. Many of our best men have not attended the school meetings for several years. They have become so disgusted that they cannot maintain their dignity and self-respect by their presence, and sanction of such infinite party meanness as has been exhibited at these meetings. Respectable democrats are becoming affected with a like nausea. Let the men of Ypsilanti, who are jealous of its honor and would promote its welfare inaugurate a reform.

Those who suffer from liver complaints may rely upon the Red Jacket Bitters, because they derive from its antibilious properties immediate and certain relief when all the usually prescribed remedies have proved useless.

Buried in a Well.

John Flynn, an old and experienced well digger, while digging a well in Ann Arbor last Friday was buried in the well by the banks caving in. The depth was about 12 ft. not curbed. He was covered up in the ground at the depth of two feet over his head.
A large number of men came to his assistance and sufficient sand was removed to allow him to breathe, when a light barrel was settled over and around his head, the sides of the well curved in, and energetic hands removed a large amount of sand and finally extricated him from his perilous situation.

Trade Association.

The meeting of the Farmers' and Mechanics Trade Association, at Follett Hall, so far as numbers and enthusiasm seemed a success.
The following officers were chosen to hold

Beater Hay Press and Cider Manufacturing Compy, has removed his office and Store House, from the Follett block to their new buildings on the old Fair Grounds on the east side of the river.
He is prepared to pay cash for all kinds of produce, specially hay and apples.

New Establishment.

Passing down Huron St., south part the city we discovered a new establishment in full blast. E. P. Walsh, wooden ware, farming implements &c. and an article we never saw before. Mr. W. manufactures Fruit Dryers. We know they must be first rate.
Our wife must have one and every farmer's wife certainly ought to.

New Firms.

Gorton, Williams & Co have bought the stock in trade of A. J. Leetch, at the red grocery and provision store, Congress St., and propose to increase the stock and trade on liberal terms.
S. H. Beecher & Co young men of enterprise have recently come from Albion, N. Y. and established a grocery and provision store on Cross St. at the Depot. They pride themselves on a good stock and hope to merit a share of public patronage.

CHEATS.—One of our subscribers has handed in a lottery scheme. He says they keep sending to him. If at this late day when all these Lottery farces and impositions have been so often exposed any person goes in and gets bit, he is past pity.

The School census recently taken gives the number of persons in our city, between 5 and 20 years, 1,340.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

"Throw Physic to the dogs, I'll none of it.
To make assurance doubly sure I'll take"—PLANTATION BITTERS.
They never fail.

This great stomachic healer, so long and favorably known to the American public, is just what the people need. It is a remedy they can rely on. For Dyspepsia, Heartburn, headache, Dizziness, Ague, Liver Complaints, pains in the side and back, &c. it has no equal. Not the least among its virtues is its extreme pleasantness to the taste, and its immediately beneficial effect. Try it, ye dyspeptics, and be cured.

RECIPE FOR FEVER &amp; AGUE.

Bangor, VanNuren Co., Mich. Sep. 9/64.
Dr. C. W. RORACK—Sir, Your Blood Purifier and Pills sell better here than any other medicines I can keep. They are just the medicine for the people. Particularly adapted for the cure of Fever and Ague, but the people use them as a general medicine.

To break an attack of the ague take a table spoonful of the Blood Purifier every hour, and then cleanse the stomach and bowels well with your Pills, and in three days the complaint will be removed, and a permanent cure effected.

All who try this treatment before applying to a physician, will be saved much cost and suffering. sep. A. B. TAFT.

riving from every quarter. Heads that most furiously rebel against the laws of beauty, whether red, are everywhere STRIKING THEIR COL-ORS, and assuming the loveliest brown, or the most lustrous and perfect black, under the swift operation of CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE which transfigures them in a few moments. Manufactured by J. CRISTADORO, No.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS A GENERAL

ASSISTANT OF NATURE.

What is health? What is disease?
Health is when the supply and expenditure are equal. Disease when they are unequal.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS impart certain explosive powers to all matters in the body whose life is below the standard of the surrounding party, or which have remained longer than nature designed. So in fevers and all that class of cases which run in to mortification, Brandreth's Pills have marvelous curative qualities. Our bodies are continually changing, and it is by this change we live. Should matter remain in organs beyond the time nature designed, pain and inflammation set in. All Brandreth's Pills are supposed from the result to do is simply to assist the efforts of nature. sep.
